Author's Note:

- A translation of Phantom of Truth by Haiju

No warnings I don't think for this chapter. Anyways this is my first time posting fanfiction let alone writing it so it's not going to be the best thing you've ever read but I have tried to fix a few things so hopefully it's better I hope anyone who reads it enjoys!!

Maddie gets awoken by the sound of a knock at her front door. She glances over towards the clock, it read 3:32 AM. She stands up and heads down stairs, almost tripping as she stumbles down the stairs into the hallway leading up to the door.

She swings open the door to find... no one? No one is out here, she is about to go inside when she glances down at the ground. A garbage bag with something in it, she picks it up and brings it inside plopping it down on the kitchen counter.

Maddie opens the bag and sees a thermos? No, not any thermos, it was the Fenton ghost thermos except it looked a bit different, upgraded maybe but definitely theirs.

She looks back inside the bag expecting to see some kind of note, something telling her who gave her this, but there was nothing.

As she holds the thermos in her hand, without thinking she presses the button ejecting what was inside.

It looked as if it was frozen. Not moving a muscle, not trying to run away. Just lying there, eyes shut.

She knew just what she had to do, but she has to transport it and fast, before jack gets back from his fishing trip with Danny.

Him and Danny had always loved to spend their weekends fishing together, but recently Danny hasn't been home as much and when he has been home he has been locked in his bedroom, playing one of his games.

Don't get her wrong she loves jack, but at times he really isn't helpful. She knew that she was going to have to do this herself.

"You're all mine now, phantom" she says sucking him back up into the thermos.

Danny awoke startled. Where am I? He looks around when he notices something, he is strapped down to a table.

The door opens and steps in is, mom? "I see you are awake."she says while looking down at her clipboard.

“Where am I..?” he replied weakly

“Why phantom, you are in my lab.”

“What?” He starts to say “this isn’t your lab..?”

“It’s a new one I had built a year ago” Maddie stated “in case I ever got my hands on you.”

He groans, why was he so sore, what happened? He looks up at his mom “do you know what happened..?”

“To you no,” she started “all I know is you showed up on my doorstep and I have you all to myself..”

Creepy much... “What.. what are you going to..”

Maddie cuts him off “well..” she scoffs “well, that is something we both will find out later.”

Danny lays there strapped down to the table watching as his mom leave. Locking the door as she exits.

Maddie opens the door to her lab she walks in while looking down at her clipboard writing down the word 'phantom' at the top. When she notices something moving in the corner of her eye.

"I see you are awake." She says. Already? I thought it for sure was going to be "asleep" the rest of the night.

"Where am I..?" Phantom replied

"Why phantom, you are in my lab."

She looks over at him with pure disbelief. She can't believe someone just handed phantom over to her!

"What?" Phantom starts to say "this isn't your lab..?"

"It's a new one I had built a year ago" she replied "in case I ever got my hands on you."

"do you know what happened..?"

She grins “To you no,” she says “all I know is you showed up on my door step and I have you all to myself..”

“What.. what are you going to..”

She cuts him off “well..” she scoffs “well, that is something we both will find out later.”

She walks over to her desk, placed slightly off to the right of her grabs her bag, and before walking out the door, double checks the lock.

She unlocks her car and climbs in and starts up the engine.

What am I going to do with it? She thought to herself. Whatever she can figure that out later. All she had to do now is drive back home before her husband does his “daily call” to check up on her.

She started her drive back home with the sun shining on her back, as it rises over the horizon.

2. Chapter 1

Notes for the Chapter:

Really short chapter that I've been meaning to publish for a while. I hate this chapter so much I didn't exactly know what to write so. This chapter doesn't make any sense. Anyways enjoy!

Opening the door to her house, locking it behind her as she enters the kitchen.

She sets her bag on the counter and heads upstairs to her bedroom exhausted. Her lab was placed 2 hours outside of amity park so her husband or anyone would have a lesser chance of finding it. The only problem was, what if someone stumbles into her laboratory by accident?

Whatever . That can be something she will figure out when the time comes. She starts walking over the closet to grab her clothes when she looks over at the clock. It read 10:37, wait. She wanders down the stairs to the kitchen, grabs her bag and rummages around until she finds her phone flipping it around to show the screen.

Jack hasn't called her yet? Maybe he just slept in? She thinks to her self, but he normally is always up before 9 AM. Maybe I should call him just in case.

She opens up her phone and calls her husband's cell. It rings for a while before the person on the other line picks up.

“Maddie?” Jack says on the other line panic in his voice.

“Jack? Is something wrong you sound kind of worried?”

“Mads, I promise this wasn’t my fault!” Jack explained.

“What- Jack what did you do that you think I would blame you for?”

“Uhm-“ Jack starts to say

“JACK FOR THE LOVE OF GOD!”

“Danny’s-“ Jack starts “Danny’s missing and I don’t know where he is Maddie..”

“What do you mean Danny is missing?”

“Like he’s gone I tried to look for him before calling you,” Jack says “but he is no where near the camp..”

What? Maddie thought to herself

“I’m on my way home now through mads,” Jack starts to say “we can

“I got it..” Maddie says “just look out for him though..”

“Of course, bye Maddie.”

“Bye” and she hangs up her phone dropping to the ground.

She starts to stand up after sitting on the ground and, walks back upstairs walking into hers and jack’s bedroom, getting ready to take her shower.

As she stands in front of the mirror in the bath room staring back at herself dark circles under her eyes, when Jack knocks on the door.

“Maddie?” He called

She looks down towards the ground and walks over to the door opening it carefully as to not hit herself.

“Yeah?” She says

“Uhm- It’s been along day I’m going to go to bed”

“Is that all?”

Jack just stands there before speaking

“It’s been a week and we still haven’t found-“

Maddie cuts him off screaming “YOU DON’T THINK I KNOW THIS I KNOW HE HAS BEEN MISSING FOR A WEEK YOU DON’T HAVE TO REMIND ME!”

Jack looks away not saying a thing.

“Jack I’m sorry, I’m tired I haven’t slept all week I just want him to come home..”

“I know maddie, I do too.”

“I’m going to go look for him.”

“I will come with you-“

“No, I feel the need to do this myself” Maddie says

“Okay just call me if you find anything.”

“I got it.” She says as she walks out of the room.

3. Chapter 2

The lab. No her lab that's where she was going, why? Well she didn't exactly know why, but she felt the need to be there.

She climbs outside of her car looking at the door. She starts to walk over when she sees something in the corner of her eye scaring her, but when she turned she didn't see anything. Must just be her imagination.

Opening the door to the lab she opens the door carefully, good phantom was still "asleep" if ghost can even sleep.

She walks over to her desk and places her bag down and walks over to examine when he jolts awake starting her as she started to walk away.

"Mo-" he starts to say but then looks down as to examine his body looking kind of surprised "Maddie?" He finally says.

"Not Maddie, you are not allowed to call me Maddie."

He looks up at her "then-"

"You are to call me Dr. Fenton for now on, got it?"

“Yes..” phantom says

“Yes what,”

“Yes Dr. Fenton..” he says

“Good, now how have you been holding up?” Maddie ask not knowing why?

He doesn’t answer and just stares at the floor.

“Okay, I guess someone doesn’t feel like talking.” Maddie says glancing down at phantom.

“You know no one’s coming to find you, right?” She says

Phantom mumbles something she isn’t able to make out, as she starts to walk back over to her desk

“Do I have to be strapped down?” Phantom mutters

“I suppose I could put you in the other room so you are not as sore .” She says. Maybe if he has more room he will be able to participate more.

“But you can’t be conscious while I move you,” she starts to say walking back over to him “we don’t want you to try and run now do we.” And she slowly stabs the needle in his leg.

“Ow!-“ phantom screams

“You’re fine.” She says reassuringly.

Phantom then shuts his eyes and she unstraps his arms the legs and moves him into his new room.

The room had a small door in the center of a wall of glass so Maddie would always be able to see phantom and observe his every move, the other three walls made out of concrete no windows and a small light on the ceiling giving of a little right.

She places phantom down on the ground and then exits the room locking the door behind her and walking in front of the glass staring at phantom as he lies there on the hard ground.

Walking over to her desk and taking her phone out looking down at the black screen before turning it on.

One new message from jack Fenton. The screen read.

She opened the message it read “have you found any sign of Danny?”

“No,” she replies “I’ll be on my way home soon.”

She walks over to the door that leads outside and opens it looking back towards phantom as he lays there. Turning back to face outside she walks out of the door slamming it behind her.

4. Chapter 3

Summary for the Chapter:

10/04/06 4 days before Maddie gets her gift.

“I’m surprised” Danny started “there haven’t been any ghost attacks this morning, which is the first time in a while.”

“Yeah I guess, isn’t it a little weird?” Sam one of Danny’s best friends answers.

“What are you, my mom?” He replies.

Sam’s and tucker have been Danny’s best friends since 2nd grade and they have been through everything together. They were there when Danny’s grandma died which was really hard for Danny because his grandmother was his favorite person in the whole world at the time, and they were also there when the accident with the ghost portal which flipped Danny’s world upside down which was hard on all of them and they have had some rocky patches in the road but they’ve always made up for it.

“I might as well be your mom,” Tucker says “slap a wig on me and you can call me mama tuck!”

“Tucker no, that is so bad never say that again” Sam joins in.

“Come on it wasn’t that bad was it?” Tucker says turning to Danny

“It was really that bad tuck,” Danny says grinning.

“Aw come on!” Tucker exclaims

Danny picks up his fork and pokes at the jello on his plate though I don’t look much like jello it just looked like green mush.

“What the hell is this stuff.”

“You know what it reminds me of,” Tucker starts to say “if grass was turned into jello.”

“Why are you like this” Sam mumbles starring at Tucker as he grabs a big glob of “jello” and eats it.

“Danny can I talk to you?”

Danny turns to see non other than his bully dash.

“What do you want dash?” Danny says.

“I need to show you something in the locker room”dash says

“And why would he do that he’s not stupid” Sam jumps in.

“Sam, let me handle this,”Danny says “I’m good dash I’d rather keep my skull intact today.”

“Uhm, it’s not that.” Dash says “something’s wrong with your locker down there.”

“What? What do you mean?” Danny says

“Wait how do you know something is wrong with my locker?” He says

“That’s not important..” dash scoffed.

“Wait a minute, Danny how do we know if he’s just trying to trick you” Sam whispers to Danny.

“Yeah he probably is..” Danny starts “I’m sorry dash I’ll have to check it out later.

“Ugh fine, bye nerds.” Dash says walking away

“He was 100% trying to just get you down there so he can pound your skull in” Tucker says

“ yeah probably”

Dash is the stereotypical American bully that wants to pound your skull in or stuff you in your locker and like all stereotypical American bully's he is not the smartest person out there. I mean he just almost tricked me now, hey! That's the smartest I've ever seen him! Danny thinks to himself. Although dash has been getting tutored by his older sister jazz before she went to college in Massachusetts, so he is not as stupid as he was in freshman year.

The lunch bell rings as people start to exit the cafeteria to get to their next class.

“Well, it's that time,” Sam says “I'll see you guys next period?”

“Yep same as always unless I have a run in with a-“ Danny says “you get it, anyways bye tuck bye Sam!” He exclaims.

“Bye Danny” they both say as they wander down the opposite direction of the hallway as Danny as he walks to his English class.

He walks into the classroom and immediately gets greeted by his teacher

“Good afternoon Mr. Fenton” his teacher says

“Good afternoon Mr. Lancer,” Danny says “hey I got my book report done that you wanted me to do.”

“The extra credit one?”

Danny just nods as he grabs the papers out of his bag.

A lot of people that have his class don't like him but Danny thinks he is the nicest teacher that they've ever had. Mr. Lancer would often help any student who is struggling, in that case he helped Danny a lot, especially freshman year.

“Here you go!” Danny exclaims

“Thank you Daniel,” Mr. Lancer says “you can go take a seat now.”

He walks over to his seat in the middle of the class and plops down onto his chair.

“Hey Danny”

He turns to see Valerie which is no surprise since she sits right next to him.

“Hey Val!” He exclaims

“You seem like you are in a good mood today, did some good happen?” She says grinning.

Danny scoffs murmuring “it’s what hasn’t happened yet”

“What was that?”

“Nothing,” he says grinning back up at her

“Okay?” She says sitting down in her chair.

Mr. Lancer was about halfway through his lesson when Danny feels a tug in his throat and then sees the fog rising out from his mouth as he raises his hand.

“Yes, Mr. Fenton?” Mr. Lancer asks

“Can I go to the bathroom?” He asks urgently.

“I suppose, just don’t take forever”

Danny stands up and starts sprinting as soon as he exits the classroom running to the bathroom down the hall.

As he opens the door and walks inside double checking that nobody was inside, he transforms and goes intangible flying through the roof to go outside.

As he lands on the roof of the school he runs over to the ledge looking over the school.

“What the hell.”

5. Chapter 4

Summary for the Chapter:

Still a flash back

“Vlad?” Danny calls out while leaning over the ledge. What the hell is he doing here out of all people.

“Ah, Daniel” Vlad says with a smile on his smug face.

“Why are you here” he sighs. “Here to catch me for another failure clone .”

Vlad smiles and looks right at Danny while he grabs something out of his pocket, A container?

“Now Daniel,” Vlad starts “I’m only here to try out my new pet.” And he clicks the button.

6. Chapter 5

Danny wakes up screaming as he jolts up on the cold concrete.

His head was spinning. Where was he? Oh, right. His mom's lab, why was he so dizzy, he didn't remember anything from the past few hours maybe even days. How long was he out?

He sits down floating silently above the ground so he doesn't hit the floor.

Wait, he wasn't in the part of the lab he was the last time he was awake.

This part of the lab was concrete (like the whole lab was) except for one wall glass, strong glass looking out into the rest of the lab.

At least now he has room to walk- float- whatever around.

All he could do was wait, wait to see his mom walk in that door to do some more research on her best work.

She walks into the door under the big glowing sign that read FENTON WORKS.

“Im home jack!” She yells up the stairs as she takes her shoes off and walks into the kitchen.

She flips on the lights and screams reaching for her belt in the process. someone was sitting at the counter.

“Woah woah, calm down mom it’s me” the person says turning around to face her.

“Jazz?” She stutters “I thought you were away at college.”

“I was,” jazz says “but I heard what happened with Danny and I think I might be able to help.”

Maddie walks over to the stairs and stumbles up there and tells jazz that she will be right back.

“Jack?” She says walking into their bedroom.

“Huh? Oh hi mads” he says half asleep.

“Jazz is home,” she says “and we need to have a talk, all of us”

Jack looks up at her blinking “why?”

“She might be able to help find Danny” she says “or she thinks she might be able to help..”

They both turn and walk back down the stairs
